Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

How Active Are You in Glendale's Play Week Stunts?

HOW active a part have you taken in making a success of Play Week?

This is a question each individual should ask himself. If the answer is a negative one, it is not too late to get into the fray and help during the balance of the week, for there is a daily program and plenty of work for all.

Tonight is a big night, for the program is to be presented by the Hollywood Community Chorus, under the leadership of Mrs. J. J. Carter, president of the club. The organization consists of 60 women's voices and will be led by Hugo Kirchofer. Charles Cadman, the noted American composer, will also be present and will play some of his most popular compositions. Mr. George L. Eastman, president of the Hollywood chamber of commerce, will bring greetings from his organization and Mrs. John F. Mead, president of the Hollywood Woman's club, will bring greetings from her club. There will also be other numbers on the program.

If you fail to attend tonight's meeting you will miss a treat. It will be held at the high school auditorium.

IS Glendale going to take a back seat in publicity campaigns? Nearly all the cities surrounding Los Angeles are now putting on campaigns, while we are marking time.

Burbank is the latest to start a campaign for a publicity fund of $20,000 and the committee has already signed up $8000 in pledges. Eight citizens have signed up for $300 each, two for $150, 46 for $100 and a number of smaller amounts.

W. L. TWINING, chairman of the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce, has been urging the chamber and other organizations to do something along this line and his suggestions should be acted upon without unnecessary delay.

There are a great many easterners coming to California right now and every day we hesitate is so much loss.

AT a meeting held last evening under the auspices of the South Glendale Improvement association, the matter of widening San Fernando boulevard was discussed at great length.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be that if the traffic was to be held for this street it would have to be made wider. Several visitors were present, including city officials and County Supervisor Henry Wright.

A MOVEMENT is under way to widen San Fernando boulevard from Pacific avenue to Los Feliz road. This is being opposed by some of the property owners, who seem to feel an injustice would be done them by paving only their part and not the entire length. If possible to accomplish, it would be much more desirable to pave San Fernando boulevard its entire length, and this could probably be done if some one would spare the time to get the necessary signatures to a petition.

WHILE the abutting property owners would undoubtedly secure a great benefit from the widening and paving, the city of Glendale as a whole would profit greatly.

We are of the opinion that this should be shared by either a district, or if possible, by the city as a whole. By the county taking care of 20 per cent of the cost, the abutting property owners a share and the balance spread over the entire city, it would not amount to a great deal and comparatively nothing in view of the gain to the city.

AUTO COLLISIONS

Automobiles driven by E. M. Pinkston, 1119 Western, and a person whose name could not be learned, collided at the corner of Orange and Broadway at 5 o'clock Tuesday night. Little damage was done.

Another accident occurred when machines operated by H. Gillett, 212 West Cypress, and A. I. Goldenberg of Los Angeles, came together at the corner of Broadway and Verdugo road at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. No one was injured.

SNEAK THIEF GOES THROUGH CLOTHES

A sneak thief went through the clothes of workmen employed in the construction of a home at 840 North Pacific, yesterday, according to a report made to the Glendale police department by B. H. Fellows, one of the workmen. Officers Royle and Simmons have been detailed to find the offenders.

C. OF C. DECIDES TO ADVERTISE

Will Expend 60 Percent of Receipts for Exploitation

TO ISSUE BOOKLET

Directors to Ask Long Beach to Stop Use of Glendale's Slogan

That the chamber of commerce of Glendale will hereafter be operated on a basis of 60% of the funds received to be used for directly advertising Glendale and 40% for the overhead expenses of the organization, was the decision reached at the meeting of the board of directors of that organization held Tuesday noon. This basis of dividing the funds will exist in connection with new members to the organization after May 1, and for the old members of the organization after June 1. This comes as a result of the determination of the board to spend more of the funds received for the direct advertising of this city.

The first step of the directors in providing advertising for Glendale will be the issuing of a booklet descriptive of Glendale. This will cost $500; $100 of this will be spent for the preparing of the reading matter and $400 for printing and material.

On request of the Santa Monica chamber of commerce it was decided to adopt a resolution similar to the one adopted by the chamber of the beach city, asking the California State Railway Commission to grant no further permits for grade crossings over the steam or electric lines in the southern part of the state. This action was taken on motion of Director Hayselden, which was seconded by Director Bentley.

An invitation from the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement Association asking the members of the board and the chamber in general to be present at the opening of the illuminating system on San Fernando road was accepted, and several directors expressed themselves as anxious to attend.

A letter from Secretary Wiggins of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce asking that the local chamber support the issuance of bonds for county jail, hall of justice and county hospital was received and filed.

A representative of the Motion Picture Producers' Association outlined a pageant of publicity that that organization intends putting on soon, and on motion of Director Ferry and seconded by L. H. Wilson it was decided to take responsibility of the selling of 750 tickets for the affair.

Support for C. T. Wardlaw of Van Nuys, who is running for a place on the Los Angeles city election, was asked of the board by a delegation of about thirty of the boosting members of the Van Nuys chamber of commerce. Mark Grimes, president of the Van Nuys

MISS MOTTERN HAS APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

Glendale Singer and Associates Delight Church Gathering

A most enthusiastic and appreciative audience greeted the artists at the song recital given by Miss Elizabeth Mottern, soprano; Miss Bernice Hall, pianist, and Miss Jane Kennicott, violinist, at the Glendale Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening, although it was not as large as the program deserved owing to the many counter attractions of the evening.

It was given under the auspices of Circle No. 2 of which Mrs. W. A. Horn is chairman, and as a benefit for the fund to be used in furnishing the new church.

Miss Hall's solo number, "Etude in D Flat" (Saint-Saens), was very skilfully handled and she proved herself a most satisfactory accompanist.

Miss Mottern was in fine voice and delighted her audience with her Scotch ballads, her interpretations of the songs of other countries, and her group of songs by American composers.

Miss Kennicott's charming personality and the finish of her rendition of the Saint-Saens and Wagner numbers, greatly impressed her hearers.

The performers are all young and advanced students in the music department of the University of Southern California. Miss Mottern is a resident of the city who needs no introduction to Glendale audiences, before whom she is always welcome.

Harken, sleuths!

A portion of the register of Hotel Gray has been stolen. It disappeared in the wee hours of this morning, when all in Glendale, except the thief and the "coppers," were, presumably, sweetly sleeping.

Here's how:

The big, husky villain entered the door of Hotel Gray and rang the bell. The attendant appeared.

"Is there anyone in room 14?" asked the villain.

"Not tonight," answered the attendant.

A period of hesitations followed.

Again the voice of the villain severed the midnight air.

"Was there anyone in room 14 last night?"

The attendant explained that there was.

Quietly the villain "snuck" across to the table on which the register was lying. A few moments later he passed through the hotel doorway and out into the night.

This morning a portion of the register bearing the names of several of those who have stopped at the hotel was found missing.

Right here is where Mr. Amateur Sleuth comes in. The police are baffled. In fact, they are completely bewildered.

The questions that must be answered before the mystery is solved are: "Who was the big, bold, bad villain? Why did he steal a portion of the register? Why did he disappear noiselessly into the darkness, without leaving his calling card? What is the heart story back of it all?"

Who knows? Three beans are offered as a reward to the wise one who solves the mystery.

BUSINESS WOMEN HEAR EXCELLENT PROGRAM

Miss Hobush Describes Scenes Abroad and a Musical Talk Given

Considering the many counter attractions the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club held at the clubhouse Tuesday evening was well attended and a good program rewarded those who came.

The dinner served at 6:15 was followed by a program at 7:30, which began with some community singing led by Mrs. Baxter, with Mrs. Roberta Young at the piano.

A talk by Miss Wilhelmina Hobush on impressions gleaned during a trip abroad last summer succeeded the singing and was followed by three fine piano numbers by E. J. Pohner, from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, who recently came to the coast and identified himself with the music department of the Emerson School of Self Expression in this city. His contribution included "Organ Prelude in A Minor" (Bach) as arranged by Liszt, first movement of C Sharp Minor Sonata by Beethoven, and a Schumann composition.

Miss Hobush, who is the head of the sewing department of Glendale high, made her tour for the purpose of studying fabrics, ancient embroideries, and the work of French costume designers. She said: "I wish to see how much we know of the embroideries of the women of ancient times and if we are getting any of it in our modern work, or if our modern craftsmen are doing anything worth while.

"About 800 or 900 years ago English embroideries had first place in Europe and I was much interested to learn that this embroidery was done by nuns in the convents, not for their own personal use, but for the garments worn by the nobility. We cannot appreciate the spending of years and years by a nun on embroidery to be worn by some lady at court. Most of it has found its way back into the church and been converted into altar cloths and vestments, and the Church of Rome has made quite a collection of it. It was of the over-wrought type and done with conscious rythm. It makes one feel cheap to come back and look at our own stuff and know that the other was done hundreds of years ago when they were so handicapped and had to get the raw material, spin their thread, weave their cloth, create the design, and make the statches. That is why it is a finished thing when done. They didn't live as rapidly as we do now.

"We found the German people very agreeable and changed our minds about them. Their peasantry is quite in step with their city people, owing no doubt to their very good educational system, which is uniform throughout the country and applies to girls as well as boys although there is no co-education except in a few of the colleges. We found that in other countries an education was a luxury to be paid for and therefore the peasantry have not the education of the city people. There is a distinct difference between city

RECIPROCITY DAY IS CELEBRATED IN NEW TUESDAY CLUBHOUSE

Visitors From Clubdom of Southwest Throng Rooms Admiring the Home of Glendale Women's Organization and Hear Splendid Program

300 ARE SEATED AT CHARMING LUNCHEON

Officers of Various Units of Activity Describe Work of Upbuilding and Discuss Plans for Extension of Influence in Their Various Communities

By GERTRUDE GIBBS

Fairly radiant was the banquet hall of the Tuesday Afternoon club on yesterday, filled as it was with the scent of Cecil Brunner roses, which made the charmingly appointed tables prepared for guests at the reciprocity luncheon a dream of floral loveliness, and with the pretty hats and toilettes of visitors making a rainbow of colors, marking the club's first Reciprocity day in the new clubhouse.

The group of non-section members who provided the luncheon under the presiding genius of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, must have been well satisfied with the artistic effect, particularly at the president's table where a dainty French boutonniere was provided for each guest.

Not less than 350 were seated and then many who had desired tickets had to be denied, but the number included 150 or more representatives of sister clubs of Los Angeles county.

The good things to eat provided by the really delicious menu, which was served with wonderful perfection by members who voluntarily gave their service, was soon forgotten in the brilliant program of after dinner speeches over which Mrs. Daniel Campbell graciously presided as toastmistress after she had eloquently invoked the divine blessing, and which included much congratulation on the beautiful home of the hostess club.

After the dinner guests of honor had been heard, an adjournment was taken to the club auditorium where, following a business session, including many important announcements and more introductions of members and visitors, the special musical program of the day was given by Madame Wisniewska, soprano; Mrs. Gladys Burch Dale, violinist; William Hullinger, flutist, and Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb, accompanist.

At the luncheon the special guests of honor were seated at the president's table within the recess formed by the tea room which was thrown open to make an annex to the banquet hall. They were introduced in order by Mrs. Campbell, beginning with Mrs. Andrew Lobingier, president of the Friday Morning club, named as Mrs. Campbell's "club mother." Mrs. Robert Burdette, director of the federation of women's clubs of the world, was introduced as her "club grandmother." Then came Mrs. Truella, first vice president of the district federation; Mrs. Thomas Exley, vice president at large of the district federation; Mrs. Charles A. Wiley, auditor of the state federation; Mrs. Charles S. McKellar, parliamentarian of the district federation; Mrs. Norton Johnson, instructor in the Bible or club sections; Mrs. Cyrus Richey, recording secretary of the district federation; Mrs. Fry, district chairman of press and publicity; Recording Secretary-elect Mrs. Slayden; Mrs. Batiste of Ventura county, treasurer-elect of the district federation Mrs. Campbell explained that Mrs. Urquhart, retiring president of the district federation, was kept at home by the illness of her husband, and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, the president-elect, is now in the east attending the congress of mothers and the national federation.

The officials mentioned were called upon and some of them responded with gracious words of greeting and congratulation. Mrs. Lobingier, whose organization is building a $500,000 clubhouse on the site of the old one, said it was a comfort to her to think the club owns to the center of the earth and up to the sun and therefore can expand, if need be, in both directions. She congratulated the Tuesday club on its class "C" building, saying their own is of the class A type with an auditorium seating between 900 and 1500, and a basement costing $50,000 adding that the frames alone for the pouring of concrete would cost $58,000. "Ours," she said, "is not a local club, but a cosmopolitan one, made up largely of presidents of other clubs, and when we have an audience of 1000 it means 5000 back of them who will receive whatever of good has been given out."

Mrs. Burdette admitted to being president of an organization that is building a $750,000 club home, viz., the Women's Athletic club which will be an exchange for all women. She referred to the coming to Los Angeles next year of the general Federation of Women's clubs and of the pleasure it would be to take the eastern delegates on tour through the county and show them what California women have done in club building. "But," said she, "such building is not alone indicative of executive ability and

GLENDALE ASKED TO DECORATE ON SATURDAY

Odd Fellows to Give Carnival in Honor of the 104th Anniversary

A request that the merchants of Glendale decorate their places of business on Saturday, when the 104th anniversary of the Odd Fellows will be celebrated here, is being made by the members of the lodge to the business men today. It is expected that about 3,500 members of the various Odd Fellows lodges of Southern California will be in Glendale at that time, and the local lodge members feel that the merchants of this city should show enough interest in the event to decorate their store fronts.

"In response to a request made by the merchants that we route our parade before their stores we have decided to do so," said W. J. Royle, who will be sergeant-of-the-day, "and we feel that the merchants should 'come back' by putting a little bunting or a few American flags across the fronts of their stores. All we ask is that they treat us as fairly as we have treated them.

"Saturday promises to be one of the biggest days Glendale has ever seen. There will be a terrible mob of Odd Fellows here, and we want to show them the biggest time we possibly can. All Glendale should join in giving these visitors the glad hand. They are a dandy bunch of men and women and they will certainly appreciate anything the people here do for them."

Extensive preparations are being made by the local lodge for the reception of the visitors. The festivities of the day will start at 11 o'clock in the morning when the local and visiting Odd Fellows will begin to parade. The line of march is from Wilson to Brand, where the parade will form down Brand to Colorado, back to Broadway, east of Broadway to Glendale avenue, where the procession will disband, the members going via street car and automobile to Glendale-Verdugo park, where the joyfest will continue throughout the afternoon and evening. Those in the parade will march in full uniform.

The program at the park, which will start at about 2 o'clock, will be opened by Mayor Robinson, who will give the address of welcome. This will be followed by short addresses by prominent local and visiting Odd Fellows.

The speaking program will be followed by a ball game and field sports. The Elks and Los Angeles Odd Fellows bands will be present to furnish music for the parade and during the afternoon.

In the evening there will be a dance in the pavilion, music to be furnished by the Hollywood American Legion orchestra.

Free coffee will be furnished during the afternoon. Those attending are asked to bring their lunches and cups.

THORNTON HOUSE TO BE MOVED AWAY

W. C. Fraley, the purchaser of the handsome two-story house at the corner of California and Brand, formerly owned by Colonel Tom Thornton, has gotten busy and had it hoisted upon timbers preparatory to removing it to Adams and Doran, where he will occupy it as a home. He says the peak of the roof may have to be lowered some before it can make the journey, otherwise it will go intact.

DEATH SENTENCES COME EASY TO WOMAN JUDGE

Soviet Girl Says She Loses No Sleep Over Executions Ordered

[By Associated Press]

MOSCOW, April 25.—Citizeness Anna Gluzman, the 23-year-old presiding judge of the Moscow district court who a few days ago sent seven men to their deaths for robbery, informed the Associated Press correspondent today that she had imposed the death penalty on about 25 persons since February and had not lost a moment's sleep or been troubled by her conscience because of them.

Asked how, as a woman, she felt when the doomed men were shot, she replied that the question of individual lives could have no consideration when crimes against the safety of the state and the public were involved. She had to administer justice according to the law of evidence, though she tried to temper her decisions with mercy when possible.

With a cigarette held firmly between tight lips, the girl judge spoke of her court experiences. She is slim and short; not at all pretty; her brown wavy hair is bobbed and parted on the side like a man's; her jaw is stern. Dressed as she was today, Citizeness Gluzman might have posed for the representative of what sometimes is imagined as a typical woman communist.

A pleasant smile saved her from positive ugliness, but there was no hint of feminine finery in her rough boots, black skirt, blue denim workman's blouse, buttoned high at the neck and an old brown sweater which she wore. Her only ornament was the red enameled badge of the communist party. "Since February I have tried eight or ten capital cases, mostly banditry and theft of public property," she said. She paused a moment to consider when asked how many persons she had sentenced to death and answered "I think about 25 since February." These included one woman, convicted last Thursday of assisting a gang of robbers.

"No, I have never seen an execution," she said. "Sometimes the law requires the presiding judge to attend these, but always I have been busy at other things at the time and detailed someone else."

Anna Gluzman is not married; she lives alone in a little room without pets.

"But when I am outside of the court," she explained, "I am just like anyone else; I like to visit my friends and go to the theatres."

This new figure in communist activities is a native of Kishenev, Bessarbia, of Jewish percentage. She had to quit school and go to work when 13 years of age, but she managed to educate herself and studied law at Odessa University. She joined the communist party in 1918 and served two years as judge of local tribunals in Kharkov but never had a capital case until she came to Moscow.

The supreme court of Russia or the central executive committee only can reverse or mitigate her decisions in the Moscow district court.

I. W. W. CALLS STRIKE ON NEW YORK WATER FRONT

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, April 25. — While police today picketed the waterfront preserving the comparative quiet which ushered in the strike called by the marine transport workers' division of the I. W. W., officials of the organization, which claims 90,000 members, reported receiving messages from other seaport locals saying the strike was highly effective at Boston, San Pedro, Cal., Seattle, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and New Orleans.

Members of the I. W. W. union at Baltimore were said at the National headquarters here to be ready for a general walkout tonight or tomorrow morning.

In the first few hours today there was little evidence of the strike and a check-up by police, shippers and rival union leaders indicated only 300 of the transport workers' union had stopped work. The I. W. W. officials asserted, however, that the strike would effectually tie up shipping when it got under way.

PLAY IS THEME OF GLENDALE

Observation of National Relaxatoin Week Is General

BIG EVENT TONIGHT

Baseball, Neighborhood Parties and Hi Students Announce Stunts

Play is the theme in Glendale this week. Through the Community Service celebration of the seven days of relaxation were held yesterday and more are announced for tomorrow.

With the names of Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer-pianist; Sol Cohen, violinist, and Margaret Messer Morris, vocalist, linked with the announcement of the inter-community program to be put on under the direction of Mrs. J. J. Carter of Hollywood, in connection with the community sing tonight at the high school auditorium, it would be advisable for those planning to attend to come early if they wish to secure seats at this celebration, which is a part of the Glendale Community Service program for National Play Week.

A meeting will be held at the high school tonight at 7:15 o'clock of the athletic committee of Glendale Community Service and representatives of the various teams to organize a twilight baseball league. Anyone interested is invited to be present. Mr. R. E. Tucker, local Community Service executive secretary, states that the committee already has the assurance of teams from the following: Postoffice, Firemen's and Policemen's Association, Newton's Electric company, night school group, Bentley Lumber company, Methodist Church, American Legion and other organizations.

The three big neighborhood parties held last night at the Grandview, Broadway and Pacific Avenue schools as part of the Glendale Community Service program in celebration of National Play Week were attended by over 1400 people and proved to be most enjoyable get-together meetings, with programs of games, community singing and other features.

At the Grandview school, where the arrangements were planned by the P.-T. A. and the Foothill Improvement Association in conjunction with Glendale Community Service, there was a large bonfire as the center of attraction. At 8 o'clock there was a grand march from the corridor of the school on to the grounds. An address of welcome was given by Alexander Mitchell, president of the Foothill Improvement Association, and also by Mrs. Guy W. Finney, president of the Grandview P.-T. A. This was followed by salute to the flag and singing of "America." Mrs. W. Q. Widdows led in the community singing, with Miss Mabel Cunningham at the piano.

A program of games was put on by Mrs. Langdon of Roscoe and Mrs. St. Clair Whytock of Glendale and a group of school children, including Joy Person, leader; Louise Pomeroy, Eleanore Bitz, Maxine Perkins, Edith Lewis, Marjorie Kelly, Choco Okado, Alice Stombs, Margaret Pomeroy, Velma Bunker, Jennie Woodward, Alma Bitz, Pansy Clayton, Alice Kelley, Yayeko Nakamura, Fay Cunningham, Frances Green, Rhoda Covert, Margaret Poore, Shirley Bixner, Maude Nicol, Althear Triddle, Jeanne Fitch, Marjorie Wheldon, Dorothy Berryman, Alice LaBau, Eloise Jenkins, Gertrude Green, Delka Okado, Jean Garretson, Mildred Pelley, Winnie Schwartz, Opal Clayton, Norma Richardson, Violet Stephenson, Viola Bitz and Zelda Meadows.

The large bonfire was lighted about 9:30 o'clock and a wiener roast enjoyed. There was such a large crowd present that it was necessary to send out for more refreshments. The committee in charge of arranging for and preparing the bonfire included Mr. and Mrs. Elsperman, James Conner, Mr. Thompson, H. W. Hollenbeck, E. H. Learned, T. P. Evans, A. G. Evans and boys of the school.

The folks at the Broadway school also had a large bonfire in charge of Walter Dampf. Community singing there was under the supervision of Col. James W. Everington and members of the American Legion, who also furnished a group of vocal and instrumental numbers of popular and patriotic songs, they having brought along with them several of their stringed instrument players. A program of games was put on by the committee from Community Service, including Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. L. Stumbaugh, Charles Larson, Mrs. Scharnikow, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, R. M. Ferguson and Mrs. Wichert.

The party at the Pacific avenue school was held in the courtyard. Mrs. Mae Rosenberg was in charge of the program of games. Little Miss Wilma Kulp led in community singing and also furnished solo

VALLEY ROAD SET BACK IS RESOLUTION

Southern Glendale Improvement Association Passes Motion

10 FOOT LINE URGED

Eliminate Trouble in the Event of Widening of San Fernando

The interest of the people in the southern section of Glendale who are looking forward to the future development of that district and who attended the meeting of the Southern Glendale Improvement association, held last night at the Cerritos avenue school with the president, Stuart Streit, in charge, crystallized in the passing of a motion, made by Dr. Mabry, as follows:

"That the association communicate with the city council of Glendale and request the passage of an ordinance establishing a set-back line of ten feet on each side of San Fernando road from the north city limits to the south city limits of Glendale."

If adopted, this ordinance would mean that any building erected on that street in the future would have to be set back ten feet from the inside of sidewalk line. The actual widening of the street, of course, would be put over until such time as people along San Fernando road would want that improvement made, while the establishment of the set-back line would eliminate the expense of tearing down and paying for buildings which might be built.

Supervisor Wright was present and spoke on what the county could do in the matter of widening this artery of traffic. He stated that as the county had no jurisdiction over city streets they could only make an appropriation in the form of a donation to the city of Glendale to help pay for the paving of San Fernando road or any other street that the city of Glendale might ask to have help on. He also said that it would be necessary for the city of Glendale to ask the county for financial assistance. "In the event that this is done, the county could not make an

PLANS FOR THE CITY SCHOOLS PRESENTED

Preliminary Drawings Are Submitted to Board of Education

At the meeting of the Board of Education, Tuesday night, preliminary plans were presented by George M. Lindsay for the Central avenue school buildings, and by Arthur G. Lindley for the Broadway school, which were inspected and suggestions made by members.

Architect Charles C. Rittenhouse who has been commissioned to make plans for the Magnolia school was also present, but had made no preliminary plans, having been asked to defer work until the board should decide how the new building will face.

The committee composed of Superintendent White, Business Manager Black and President Hibben appointed at the last meeting, submitted a preliminary report concerning a school site in the northwest and other pieces of land which the board has considered purchasing to round out school campuses, and the committee was instructed to continue its work and report at the next meeting.

The regular monthly financial statement was submitted by Business Manager Black and approved by the board.

Bids were received for kindergarten supplies for next year which were referred to Dr. Black for checking and report at the next meeting.

Some consideration was given to sprinkling systems for Acacia and Broadway, but action was deferred until another meeting.

Reports were received concerning dining room furniture for the home economics department at Glendale avenue which had been authorized at the last meeting and the responsibility for selecting same was left to Miss Woolridge, head of the department, and Business Manager Black, subject to certain price restrictions.

A letter from officials of the Industrial Exposition asking for the co-operation of the grammar schools in advertising the project, was referred to Superintendent White with authority to act.

Several communications were received from labor unions but no action was taken.

FRANCE HENRY IS TRUE OPTIMIST IN BUSINESS

Considers Burglar's Visit As Compliment to His Product

The taste tells, declared France Henry, proprietor of the Sierra Club Beverage company on Wilson avenue, when asked for the reason why his place was entered Tuesday night and a number of bottles of beverage opened and emptied.

"When people will break into a bottling works for the express purpose of securing some of the liquid refreshments manufactured there, it speaks pretty well for that beverage," he said. "We consider this incident a wonderful testimonial to the quality of Sierra Club beverages."

Officers Boyle and Simmons have been detailed to find those that thirst. Mr. Henry wants a testimonial, anyway.

GIRLS OF THE C. C. C. TO ENTERTAIN AT THE CHURCH

Tomorrow evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, the Girls' Glee Club of the California Christian College will give an entertainment of rare merit in Central Christian Church, corner Louise and Colorado. There will be solos, ducts, quartets and chorus singing, some fine readings and a playlet. These young ladies are all students of this young college, glorying in its accomplishments and sanguine of its possibilities. They are putting their best in these entertainments they are giving in nearby cities, for they want to show what this new educational institution can do. They are earnest Christian girls and they will give a refined entertainment. No admission fee will be charged. Everybody welcome.

appropriation to exceed 20 per cent of the cost of the improvement," he stated.

There was a general discussion as to the pro and con of widening Doran, where he will occupy it as of opinion being that San Fernando road needed widening but that it would be best to start such an improvement from the north limits of Glendale to Los Feliz road at the present time, rather than just from Pacific avenue to Los Feliz.

City Manager Reeves gave a talk on the subject of widening that street and pointed out the necessity of such an improvement. City Councilman Kimlin was present and also made a few remarks.

THERE'S SURE MANY A SLIP

One of Glendale's leading real estate dealers had an unusual and not very satisfying experience a few days ago. He sold a very prominent Brand corner for $50,000 and the would-be purchaser gave him a check for the entire amount, but before the deal could be put in escrow the owner decided the price was not enough so the deal was called off.

numbers. An interesting feature was the pantomime, "Meller Dramer," put on under the direction of Mrs. Rosenberg, and in which the following took part: Miss Mary Circle, Mrs. Ethel Carpenter, Miss Margaret Taylor, Muriel Wilson, Jessie Hunt, Mrs. Margaret Longley, L. T. Rowley and R. E. Tucker.

The Girls' Play Day Program to be put on at the high school Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock as part of the observance of Play Day Week under Community Service, will be open to the general public and all Glendale, especially parents and patrons of the schools, are invited to come and occupy seats on the bleachers.

The first event will be a posture parade by girls of Glendale High, Glendale and Wilson Avenue intermediates.

At its conclusion the high school girls will remain on the field by classes, the others retiring, and will go through their formal gymnasium drills.

Next will come massed athletics in different divisions. On the west side of the field will be kick ball in three groups and next to that will be dodge ball. At the back of the field on the west bat ball will be in progress and in front of that in three divisions potato races will be put on, and over and under relays.

At the close of this part of the program the winner of the posture parade will be announced.

At the end of the massed athletics the different teams will begin organized athletic games. Four baseball teams will be playing at one time on the big field and at the same time a game will be going on on the girls' field. Two volley ball games will also be taking place in the volley courts.

In the girls' gym 9-court basket ball will be played and in the boys' gym 3-court basketball.

All charts for the tournament will be on the handball court facing the big field for the inspection of the visitors.

THE MARKETS

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, April 25.—Speculation in today's stock market was highly irregular. Early strength was succeeded by an interval of heaviness when bear inetrests attempted a renewal of the general decline, but the effort failed to shake the list and prices snapped back sharply on short-covering operations. Sales approximated 750,000 shares.

Publication of the exceptionally favorable quarterly earnings report of the United States Steel Corporation imparted general strength at the opening of today's stock market. U. S. Sicel opened a point higher at 105 7-8, while Sloss-Sheffield and Bethlehem made a similar gain and the oils were substantially higher also on the measures to curtail production by the leading California producers.

Although there were a few stocks that lost ground in the early dealings on profit-taking arising from yesterday's large advances, especially Fleischmann and Standard Oil of California, the remainder of the list pursued a steady upward course. Buying was most effective in the sugars, rubbers, domestic oils, leathers, equipments and steels. Railroads also responded to an increased demand. Gains ranging from 1 to 2½ points were scored by Goodyear Rubber preferred, Republic steel, Wells Fargo Express, Central Leather preferred, Louisville and Nashville, Maryland Oil, Willys Overland preferred, Pullman, Cuba Cane Sugar preferred and American Chicle.

Foreign exchange rates were steady with francs rising 4½ points to 6.80.

FUNERAL FOR MRS. THORNROSE TODAY

EAGLE ROCK, April 25.—Mrs. Thornrose, who has resided at 266 East Sycamore for the past two years, passed away Monday morning after a few weeks' illness which developed into pneumonia. Mrs. Thornrose was over sixty years old. She is survived by her husband, A. G. Thornrose, and one daughter, Mrs. Florence Endicott in Eagle Rock, and by a son and daughter residing in Los Angeles.

Funeral services took place at 11 o'clock this morning at the parlors of C. F. Lamb and Son, 704 South Central.

Many a city man who boasts of his boyhood days back on the farm continues to reside in town.

JETER RESULTS ARE BEGINNING TO MULTIPLY

JERRY JETER JOLTS

"You may profess the highest that the Bible gives out and then have a mean temper, a mean bat or cut of the eye, that quickness in the tossing of the head, an evil disposition and neither angels nor men will have any confidence in your loud profession. Did your phone ring that time?

"Religion does not consist in much crying. If so babies would be the most religious people in the world.

"You are no more right with God than you are with your neighbor.

'It may be that if you will get rid of that mean temper and that awful disposition you will not have to pay the doctor so much money to cure you of indigestion.

"The fruit of the Spirit is love and the fruit of love is joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith.

"Paul says: 'Husbands, love your own wives,' with emphasis on 'your own.' He also rings the wife's number."

The results of the Jerry Jeter metings are piling up very fast now. The tabernacle on East Broadway has become the most attractive place to hundreds of people. At all of the services people are seen making their way to the inquiry rooms and this week bids fair to bring, so the evangelist states, the greatest number of results of any part of the campaign. The Jeters haye much to say about bad tempers, evil dispositions and the like, sins not touched on by many who are in their line of work, so they say. "Their sort of preaching is so different," so a man said yesterday who had been through a Jeter campaign in Oregon.

The poor old mother-in-law is to come in for her share tonight when the evangelist speaks on "How Shall We Escape, or a Mother-in-Law. Her Sons-in-Law. How she got them and what became of the whole outfit." Mrs. Jeter is having the largest crowd at the 2:30 hours. Mr. Jeter is showing the children how to model in clay nightly. Mr. Johnson and his singers from the Bob Shuler church will be down again for Thursday night.

chamber of commerce, assured the board that in return for whatever Glendale can do in connection with securing the election of Mr. Wardlaw, the Van Nuys people will do everything possible for the establishment of the Los Angeles outfall sewer connection for Glendale. Mr. Benton, secretary of the Van Nuys chamber, also gave a rousing address. The local board promised its loyal support and took 5,000 cards to mail to residents of Los Angeles for this purpose.

The matter of Long Beach using Glendale's slogan, "The fastest growing city in America," was brought up and it was decided to take the matter up with the Long Beach chamber in an effort to have them cease using the slogan.

Harry E. White of the highway and bridges committee, reported that progress was being made in the securing of an extension of York boulevard into Glendale, and also of the building of the Hyperion Pass road. On motion of Director Ferry it was decided to request the city council to take immediate steps toward cutting down the hill where Adams street and York boulevard meet in order that the construction of this road might be facilitated. It was also decided to ask the council to endeavor to secure from the Forest Lawn Cemetery company the deed to a small piece of land necessary for the putting through of this road.

Chairman Karr of the civics committee stated that there would be no clean-up week in Glendale. The council thought it was unnecessary, he stated. However, he said, a compromise had been reached whereby more frequent service of the garbage and rubbish hauling would be afforded the residents of Glendale.

In reporting on the coming Industrial Exposition Mr. McCormack stated that the lumber contract had been let to the May & Hellman company, and also that the tent to be used by this exposition would be the largest ever erected in Southern California. He told of ticket-selling campaigns that were soon to be put on at the schools and also among the boy scouts.

A letter from Mrs. Helen McMullin, stating that she would be unable to work on the civics committee of the chamber was received.

An invitation from the Covina chamber of commerce asking that the members of the Glendale chamber attend a fete that is to be held in that city soon was accepted and filed.

A committee of five was ordered appointed to work up a large delegation from Glendale to attend the Mission Play at a near future time.

NEWS OF EAGLE ROCK

WEST RIDGEWAY IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED

After Expectant Wait of Eight Years, Residents Will Be Rewarded

After a delay of eight years the section of West Ridgeway lying between Valley Drive and College View is to be improved. Helen Pratt, on behalf of the residents in that district, requested that the Trustees take some immediate action before the city is taken over by Los Angeles. This unimproved portion of Ridgeway has been neglected for so long, although it has been in line for improvement many times when the City Engineer was working upon other streets nearby. Always, before the workmen could begin on West Ridgeway at the point in question, a change in the weather made work impossible, or the engineer was called to bring his force to another section for emergency work, or something else arose to postpone the improvement. So, after eight years of patient waiting and cheerful expectancy, the residents of the district are to be rewarded as soon as other projects on hand are completed. It is the desire of the board to finish this piece of work now, before other matters more urgent arise to again postpone the completion of the improvement.

All local members, or graduates of the Colorado school who wish to join are cordially invited.

LINCOLN STUDENTS TO HAVE NEW ROUTE

New Transfer Point to Be Established at York Boulevard by Fall

"We can see no immediate relief for Eagle Rock," is the answer that was given to the committee appointed by the local trustees to confer with the management of the L. A. Railway Company. Despite the complaints regarding the Eagle Rock line the company cannot provide a change at present, not until adequate facilities for an improvement in the service are at hand, according to the railroad authorities.

Two thousand cars have been ordered and these will be used for bettering car lines all over Los Angeles. Although Eagle Rock will benefit when this shipment is received, no date has yet been set for the arrival of the new cars. So, for the time being at least, there will still be the same schedule in force here as formerly.

Better news was provided for the committee when announcement was made at the conference that the railway line in Eagle Rock would be connected to the York boulevard line so that students attending Lincoln high school this fall will be able to transfer there without going to Twenty-eighth and Dayton as has been the former route.

RECIPROCITY DAY CELEBRATED AT TUESDAY CLUB

financial understanding but of that greater thing, unity of ideals and of the fact that the home is the background of our individual lives, the lives of our communities and our nation."

Mrs. Truella thanked Mrs. Campbell for her tribute to the absent president, Mrs. Urquhart, congratulated the club on its building, and upon the head of its drama section, Mrs. Raymond Chase, who is also the district chairman of drama.

Mrs. Exley, who helped to dedicate the corner stone of the Tuesday clubhouse, quoted some little editorial "fillers" in the way of philosophy which she had found suggestive, such as: "What in the world would this world do if every one in it did like you?" which she said she would like to reverse to make it read: "How beautifully this world is progressing when all the clubwomen are doing just as they would have everyone else do." Said she: "There is no danger of our club life falling backward, because we always have splendid leaders, but there is danger that those in the rank and file may forget their part."

The other officials referred to, acknowledged their introductions, but made no speeches. The same was true of the past presidents of the hostess club, introduced by Mrs. Campbell as women who had been to her a "tower of strength," and whose names called forth great applause, viz., Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, chairman of the executive building committee; Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Alphonso Tower, during whose administration the first club lot was purchased, and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, past president of the district federation. Mrs. Jones turned the tables on the president by reciting the splendid work done by Mrs. Campbell herself, during the past year and in earlier years. Mrs. Campbell meanwhile trying to call her to order by the use of the gavel until it was finally removed from reach by Mrs. Lobingier. The speech drew tremendous applause to which Mrs. Campbell responded by declaring she was but a spoke in the wheel of a fine organization.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice president and chairman of ways and means, was introduced with the words: "She is lame and yet does more than 30 ordinary women. You will not know what she has accomplished until you hear her report at our annual meeting."

Mrs. Raymond Chase, curator of the drama section was likewise introduced.

This completed the luncheon program the balance of the afternoon's entertainment being given as stated, in the auditorium where Mr. Kirchofer led in community singing with Mrs. H. R. Boyer at the piano.

Mrs. Campbell officially welcomed the guests of the day after the audience had been led in the salute to the flag by the patriotic chairman, Mrs. Lillian Dow, and later she called upon some of the guests of honor already mentioned, who were seated upon the stage, and introduced to the audience Mrs. W. E. Evans, head of the committee of five which undertook to furnish the clubhouse without going into debt, mentioning by name her associates, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, Mrs. Harry Lockwood, Mrs. W. P. MacMullin, and Mrs. H. R. Boyer. The past presidents mentioned were again introduced and also Mrs. Robert Blackburn, one of the early presidents.

Mrs. Charles H. Houston, second vice president, was presented as head of the committee delegated to sell chairs for the auditorium of which about 500 have been disposed of, and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery was again introduced that she might present as the recent earnings of non-section members in dinners and entertainments, a check for $500, which received the compliment of great applause.

Mrs. Campbell announced that at the meeting of the executive board on Monday, life memberships at $100 had been closed because the goal of 100 had been reached; that henceforth life memberships would cost $250, provided the club votes at its next meeting for the necessary change in the by-laws. The list of recent life members included Mrs. J. T. Crampton, Mrs. N. R. Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Cate, Mrs. Clara Johnson, Mrs. Bertha Dodge, Mrs. Harry James, Mrs. C. J. Newton, Mrs. Henry S. McCormick, Mrs. C. H. Hutchinson, the last being presented as an honorary life membership to the junior past president in appreciation of her great work in promoting the building of the clubhouse. This too called for great applause, Mrs. Hutchinson being too overcome to respond.

In the meantime Mrs. Campbell had presented to Mrs. Lobingier a check for $12 for a chair in the auditorium of the Friday Morning club, which is imitating the tactics of the Tuesday club in seating its club gathering place.

New regular members were announced as follows: Mrs. Arthur Charles Cate, Mrs. A. G. Retinger, Mrs. J. T. Edwards, Mrs. Clark M. Johnson, Mrs. E. G. Meadows, Mrs. Edgar Coker, Mrs. R. F. Todd, and Mrs. Anna R. Johnson.

Announcement was made that delegates who would attend the state convention at Eureka, would be Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and Mrs. Ralph Meeker.

Then came a list of recent gifts to the club reported by Mrs. Campbell as follows: Two card tables and ten packs of cards from Mrs. McQuiston; the purchase of a row of 13 chairs in the auditorium by Mrs. Ella Richardson for herself, her children and grandchildren; candelabra from Mrs. Corbin; two handsome electric torchiers from Mr. and Mrs. Harry James in memory of Mrs. Harriet Fox Frank, mother of Mrs. James; the redecorating of the tea room by Mrs. Lockwood.

In memory of Mrs. Harriet White, an old and valued member of the club, whose funeral services were held Monday, the audience was asked to rise, and to send letters of sympathy to her son, McLaughlin White.

Another announcement of interest was that Mrs. A. A. Barton has been elected by the board to serve as secretary-hostess and to be at the clubhouse to receive visitors and to be generally responsible as hostess when it is in use by other organizations.

Still another statement received with applause was the granting of the use of the banquet hall and palm court for one evening each week to Community Service, under Director Tucker for programs to entertain young people, lectures, games and supervised and properly chaperoned dances. In announcing it Mrs. Campbell said: "We are not worthy the name of women unless we are ready to do something for the boys and girls that belong to us by blood ties," a sentiment that drew another prolonged burst of applause.

Mrs. Freeman Kelley, chairman of programs, was introduced, and then the program of entertainment was presented and greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Hullinger's solo numbers were exquisite—"Andalouse" (Pesard) and "Loin du Bal" (Gallet). Mrs. Dale's talent was well displayed in Wieniawska's "Legende," and in "The Old Refrain," by Kreisler. Madame Wisniewska sang two numbers with a flute obligato by Mr. Hullinger, "La Capinera" (Benedict) and "Charmant Oiseau" (David), and a third number, "Il Libro Santo" (Pinsuti) with both violin and flute obligato. Her wonderful trills and the perfection with which her voice blended with the tones of the flute electrified her audience and caused a spontaneous storm of applause. She sings with the confidence and finish of the true professional and greatly interested all musicians present. Mrs. Erb was at her best and the entire program was received with enthusiasm.

MONTROSE LINE HAULING MUCH FREIGHT

P. L. Hatch Declares Line Is Busy Compared With 2 Years Ago

Freight is increasing at a rapid rate on the Montrose railway line, according to P. L. Hatch, the genial Glendale manager.

Three carloads of automobiles yesterday came direct from Michigan to the Glendale station, and hardly a day passes that four or five carloads of freight are not received. The shipments of lumber and building materials have increased the most. Carloads of lumber and building materials have increased the most and since Sparr Heights has taken on such wonderful building activity the number of carloads of building materials is increasing.

"This is quite a change from two years ago," said Mr. Hatch when speaking of the increased business. "At that time we thought we were doing extra well if we received two or three carload shipments a week, and there seems to be no let up in carload snipments.

"The rapid development is noted at SparrHeights and Honolulu acres the new districts reached by our lines, and which just now are enjoying great development. We are going to extend our tracks from Montrose to Honolulu Acres within the next few weeks to take care of the new developments in that section," concluded the manager.

P. T. A. DISTRICT CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD IN L. A.

Scheduled for Walker Theater Building; Glendale to Be There

The first district conference of Parent-Teacher associations will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week, April 26 and 27, in the main auditorium of the Walker theatre building in Los Angeles. Glendale will have delegates present from each of the 13 associations and also the federation, who will act as hostesses the first day of the conference.

The conference will open at 10 a. m. The principal address of Thursday afternoon will be on "World Affairs" by Dr. Emery Olson of the University of Southern California. That same afternoon Mrs. Walter Gillette, curator of the drama section of the Ebell club, will give a reading. Reports of the first nine federation presidents, of which Glendale has one, will be given. It is anticipated that Richardson D. White, who is a member of the advisory board of the first district, will be present.

On Friday the election polls will be opened at 9 a. m. and remain open until 1 p. m., for the election of officers. Mrs. Mae Rosenberg of Glendale is a candidate for the office of auditor. On Friday morning there will be an address given by Miss Rena King, district chairman of kindergarten, on the subject of "Growth and Development of the Younger Child." On Friday afternoon Stanley W. Sutton of the Juvenile court and probation department will give an address. The balance of the federation reports will be given and also the president's message.

and country populations in Italy, France, Spain and Switzerland.

"I do not think any of us would enjoy wearing the German clothes. They are coarse, conservative, dull, stupid but thoroughly good.

"Northern and Southern Italy we found as wide apart as two continents, the northern section being much influenced by Switzerland. The Italian girl of the upper classes is very beautiful, but the peasantry work so hard that a woman of 25 looks to be 40.

"The Swiss peasant dress is charming with its gaily colored tight bodice, with striped borders on the skirts and a great deal of smocking. There is no limit to their colors. The same idea is carried out by the French peasantry but is not so extravagant nor so refined in design.

"As to the Paris styles we were very much disappointed. The very clever things we get from their designers are built for the American and English taste. The petite French maid is a myth. She is quite large and has big feet and hands. They are enthused over the long walk or stride of the American girls. The French girl walks with a very short step."

Miss Hobush then exhibited pictures which she had made from the work of Paquin and other French designers which she was permitted to study and which she made herself in water colors, illustrating the small-waisted, long-skirted types, popular with the French in comparison with models made for the American patrons. She also showed samples of very beautiful Italian layce, telling how it was made.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB IS NEWEST ONE IN GLENDALE

Outgrowth of Work of Floyd Barnes, Recent Lecturer

The Glendale Psychology Club is the newest organization to be formed in Glendale with W. B. Howard of the Glendale Building and Loan Association as president. The organization is the outgrowth of the work of Floyd Barnes, the psychologist, who gave a series of lectures in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium recently.

The members of the club will meet tonight at the office of the Glendale Building and Loan Association, 212½ West Broadway, to form a permanent organization, and it is predicted the club, which now has sixty-two members, will develop into one of the big clubs of Glendale. The object of the organization is to take up the work as outlined by Mr. Barnes, and apply its reasoning as far as possible among the members. The course given by Mr. Barnes included Bio-Chemistry as well as Psychology, and formed a very interesting study.

Wilson Avenue School Names Delegates

Brown, Mrs. Rhoades, Mrs. Torrey, Mrs. Thimm, Mrs. Ambrosch and Mrs. Lowry. A nominating committee for the officers of the ensuing year was also appointed and includes Mrs. Pierson Hanning, Mrs. Ambrosch, Mrs. Andree and Mrs. Florence Wintersgill.

Miss Noble announced the drive being put on by the school for old newspapers and magazines, which will be sold and the proceeds used to purchase new books for the library. It is hoped to secure one ton from each room. Miss Chase's room was awarded the prize for having the largest number of mothers present at yesterday's meeting. Announcement was made of the various programs to be given in Glendale in connection with National play week.

Mrs. E. B. Moore spoke on the work of the P.-T. A. federation and the district, expressing appreciation for the splendid co-operation shown in Glendale. Mrs. C. H. Bird, juvenile court chairman, gave a talk on "The Girl Problem," stressing the importance of confidence and truthfulness of the parent towards the child. Mrs. Moore entertained with a group of readings, including "Jane Jones" and "Foreign Views."

Written reports of the chairmen are to be presented at the next meeting of the association, which will be the last to be held this school year. Each member is requested to bring a guest.

At the close of the meeting tea and cakes were served.

Games and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. During the evening refreshments of ice cream, cake and wafers were served.

STORM WRECKS BUILDINGS IN HENRIETTA, TEXAS

HENRIETTA, Texas., April 25.—Virtually every building in this community of 3,000 in north central Texas, was wrecked by a storm last night with an estimated damage of $200,000. A fifty-mile wind threw hailstorms as large as hen's eggs, breaking every window in town. Hail to the depth of a foot on the streets and water two feet deep in the cellars, sent many persons on their way to Wichita Falls, twenty miles distant, for temporary protection.

The St. Elmo Hotel, a three-story building, had its roof blown in and the interior badly damaged.

THE KILPATRICK RECITAL PROVES RARE TREAT

Dramatic Soparno and Hallett Gilberte, Composer, in Program

BY CORINNE ORFF

A rare musical treat was enjoyed by the 200 friends of Flora Phyllis Kilpatrick, dramatic soprano, and Hallett Gilberte, composer-pianist, who attended the concert recital given by them last night at the Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse at Lexington Drive and Central avenue.

Mr. Gilberte has toured the country as a pianist. He has also been active as a concert tenor, but of recent years has devoted his time to singing his own songs in recitals and touring the country with artists who are featuring his songs with him at the piano. Miss Kilpatrick interpreted Mr. Gilbert's songs in a most pleasing manner and proved a delight to the listeners. Mr. Gilberte has written some 250 songs and also compositions for piano, violin and choral pieces. The technique and expression with which he played the piano solo numbers was the source of much delight. He is spending the winter in Pasadena and doing concert work throughout Southern California.

Miss Kilpatrick is a very charming young woman and came to Glendale just a few months ago from New York City, after having made a concert tour of the eastern states. She has studied exclusively with Mrs. Frances A. Grant of New York City, who is now teaching in Glendale and Los Angeles and has been most successful in training pupils for concert and church work. Miss Kilpatrick has a rich, full voice, which is particularly pleasing in the lower registers.

The program presented by these two artists included: Vocal solos, "Ah! Love But a Day" (Gilberte); "A Rose and a Dream" (Gilberte), "A Dusky Lullaby" (Gilberte), and "Forever and a Day" (Gilberte), by Miss Kilpatrick, with the composer at the piano; solo, "Romanza," for piano, by Hallett Gilberte. By request Miss Kilpatrick sang "Plerez, Mes Yeau" (Massenet), accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Grant, and "Day" (Gaut) with the composer, Mrs. Helen Lukens Gaut, at the piano. "Barcarolle," for piano (Gilberte), which was played in concert for the first time last night by Mr. Gilberte, proved to be a most interesting composition. As an encore number he played "Nocturne" (Gilberte). The final group as presented by Miss Kilpatrick included "Two Roses," "A Maiden's Yea and Nay," "An Evening Song" and "Come Out in the Sweet Spring Night," all compositions of Mr. Gilberte. The latter two numbers were repeated as encores. "Come Out in the Sweet Spring Night" is a spring serenade with a most delightful underlying motif of Spanish rhythm, which created much enthusiasm.

The patronesses for this brilliant musical affair included Mrs. Daniel Craig and Mrs. C. A. Goodyear of Pasadena, Mrs. A. H. Farwell of Hollywood, Mrs. Frederick Caldwell of Los Angeles. Mrs. Harry James, Mrs. Merle W. Lee, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. George Mitchell, Mrs. G. L. Kaeding, Mrs. Helen Scripps and Mrs. Charles A. Parker of Glendale.

ST. MARK'S GUILD TO SERVE LUNCHEON

The regular weekly meeting of the members of St. Mark's Guild will be held in the social hall of the church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The regular business luncheon will be served from 11:30 until 1 o'clock.

THE COTTONS MOVE TO NEW STUDIO QUARTERS

Mr. and Mrs. John Cotton are today moving from the home they have occupied so long at 1137 San Rafael avenue to 203 South Peyton avenue, Eagle Rock. They make the change because they have found there a delightful house built by an artist which, as Mrs. Cotton describes it, is a studio with living rooms attached. It is so well adapted to the needs of Mr. Cotton, who is soon to start a sketching class, that it will be a great advantage to him for classes and exhibitions. Also the grounds are said to be very attractive. They hope their friends will visit them there as it is easily reached by bus or yellow car line, being in the east end of Eagle Rock, only one block from Colorado.

SURPRISE PARTY HELD FOR MR. AND MRS. SILL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sill, 614 North Maryland, was the scene of a jolly affair Monday evening when a number of their friends dropped in to spend the evening and to help them celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary. The earlier part of the evening was spent in music and conversation after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following named people: Rev. and Mrs. Henry Scheideman, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Ruis, Mrs. Man and Misses Ollie Levera Crumpler, Constance Crumpler, Pauline Crumpler, Lura Evans and Messrs. Robert Snyder, Elmer Heck, Will Crumpler and Doty L. Anderson and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Sill.

ST. MARK'S MEN ENJOY PROGRAM OF CLUB

A very enjoyable program was provided last night by the St. Mark's Men's Club in the guild hall before a very appreciative audience. Many thanks and great praise was due the orchestra members of the Shrine Club for several musical selections rendered. Postmaster Ripley Jackson was in fine voice and gave three fine vocal solos which literally brought down the house with applause. Lieut. Joe Griffin contributed in his inimitable style several witty readings and monologues. Colonel Fraser gave a very interesting talk on "Auto Driving, Speed Laws, Penalties, Etc.," which was greatly appreciated and instructive. A general feeling of goodfellowship pervaded the meeting and all present agreed it was one of the best monthly meetings put on by the club.

The next meeting will be called for Wednesday, May 23, when a varied entertainment and light refreshments will be provided and also nomination and election of new officers for the coming year will be worked out.

The best thanks from the committee in charge are extended to all those who took part, with a cordial invitation to come again.

FIRST METHODISTS HEAR DR. HAYWOOD AT BROTHERHOOD

The First Methodist Episcopal Church Brotherhood went over the top again at its monthly banquet held last Friday evening in the social hall of the church.

The principal speaker of the evening was the pastor of the Wilshire Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. Haywood, who took for his subject, "World Brotherhood." There were about one hundred that enjoyed hearing Dr. Haywood, who has recently returned from an extended tour of foreign lands, particularly Europe.

He touched upon place after place of world interest and many personalities of renowned influence. Among them were Constantinople, Palestine, Egypt, the Sudan and Nile, and Greece. Then there was David Lloyd George and the House of Commons, Waterloo, and the well remembered spots of sorrow and at the same time glory of the late World War.

Dr. Haywood said in part:

"The world is becoming more annd more one big brotherhood, and they little know America who only America know. If America does not respond to the great call to brotherhood and take her place and stand for the protection of the weak from the strong she will have missed the great purpose for which God made her.

"The hope of the world at this moment is America. Every finger points toward and every heart throb hopes for America. It is not our money. It is something more precious than that. It is understanding, sympathy, co-operation. It is for America's statemanship, America's leadership, to lead Europe out of the present situation, devastated, isolated Europe is crying for America."

He threw out a challenge to every true Christian American, urging upon each one the exercise of his civic duty to preserve the world; urged each one to greater endeavor for the emancipation of the world; importuned each one to answer God's call for the redemption of the world.

Besides the main speech there were several musical numbers and a short talk by Mr. R. E. Smith, advertising manager of the Southern California Edison company, on the "Theory of Relativity." Mr. Smith declared that "the theory is very simple and so is any one who believes it."

These meetings are held the third Friday of each month and a cordial invitation is extended all the men of Glendale to take advantage of the worth while hour or two afforded. Next month is going to be a special night for the ladies as well as men when Dr. Faris of San Diego will give his famous word picturization of "Some Men of the Hills."

Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ford, Mrs. C. M. Bussing and daughter Blossom, Miss Gertrude Talmadge, Miss Beulah Hoopes and C. H. Irish, all of Glendale.

MISS MOTTERN ENTERTAINS MUSIC STUDENTS

Miss Louise Hall, of Long Beach and Miss Jane Kennicott of Needles, Ariz., advanced pupils of the College of Music of U. S. C., were dinner and over-night guests of Miss Elizabeth Mottern on Tuesday.

Miss Wilhelmina Hobush, head of the sewing department of Glendale high school, was a very happy young woman yesterday as she was looking forward to the arrival last evening of her mother from Salt Lake City.

GLENDALE ELKS GAIN 20 NEW MEMBERS

Elected at Regular Meeting on Monday Night

The membership of Glendale lodge of Elks No. 1289 is to be increased again by the addition of twenty names, these being elected to membership at the regular meeting of that organization held last night with James Apffel, exalted ruler, in charge. Of this twenty there will be twelve admitted by initiation, six by transfer demit and two by reinstatement. Initiation will be held at the meeting next Monday night and will be the first of such ceremonies to be put on by the recently installed corps of officers. Following initiation a program of entertainment will be given.

A special feature of last night's meeting was the dedication of the new Knabe concert grand piano. The members of the orchestra furnished a group of musical numbers and following the meeting the members enjoyed a two-reel western picture directed by Harry McPherson, member of No. 1289.

Earl Patterson, esteemed leading knight, who has been quite seriously ill, was unable to be present last night.

Announcement was made of the annual inaugural ball, which will be held Saturday night, April 28, at the clubhouse, and will be for Elks and their families only. If there is a sufficiently large crowd to warrant it two orchestras will be provided. This will be in charge of the band. The dance is to be an informal affair. The regular dance committee, which includes Joe Bellue, chairman; Harry Whaley, J. F. Hearnshaw, R. C. Evans and Wiley I. Gibb, have charge of arrangements.

SUBURBAN REALTY HEARS FROM OUT OF TOWN BUYERS

San Francisco Man Sends Check for Lot to Be Hled for Him

Brand's Castle — the world famous spot of Glendale, is rapidly re-entering the field of publicity, according to Harold Blackmore of the Suburban Realty company.

"Two weeks ago," said Mr. Blackmore, "we advertised our first big sale of homesites in Suburban Heights. Our first unit was completely sold out in six days, and last week we offered specially desirable homesites in unit No. 2, and at some extraordinarily low prices. Last Tuesday we had a letter from a San Francisco business man, enclosing a check as a deposit on any one lot, to be selected by us, and held until his arrival in Glendale, early in May. Yesterday we received a similar letter and check from a party in Salt Lake City, who had selected a homesite from one of our maps.

"Both of these people knew all about the wonderful location, excellent climate and grand view obtainable from the location of Brand's Castle, and considered a homesite anywhere in the neighborhood worth twice as much as our special sales prices.

"In view of the fact that there is already good and quick transportation to within two blocks of Suburban Heights, and that the new motor bus line will pass right through the property, everyone of the homesites offered by this company today is very conservatively priced, especially when the excellent type of street improvements, gas, water, light, etc., are paid for by the owners.

"Next Saturday we will place the other half of unit No. 2 on the market," concluded Mr. Blackmore. "These especially desirable homesites will be sold on the same attractive terms as at last week's sale, allowing a very handsome profit margin for early buyers."

"SAID THE RUBLE TO THE MARK"

Said the Ruble to the Mark: "We don't amount to much, do we?"

"No," said the Mark, "how can we? Our folks have gone back on us—they reckon us as of little account."

"Too bad," said the Ruble—and so it is.

When people "go back" on their money, prosperity dies and reckless spending begins; for money is, after all, an expression of confidence in our glorious country and its wonderful resources.

If we spend for the things we need and save money reasonably, we display the right sort of faith. We put value into our efforts when we manage to restrain our spending. A nation that saves reasonably gets the most for its money. So does an individual.

Think it over.

Long experience has given us some valuable information on proper saving. We are at all times ready to share our knowledge with you.

'THE PILGRIM' IS CLASSIC CHAPLIN ABSURDITY

"The Pilgrim," a comedy classic in which Charles Chaplin rises to even greater heights of subtlety than he has ever before attained, began an engagement last night at the Glendale Theatre that threatens to rival in point of popularity his unforgetable feature, "The Kid."

A four-reel feature production, rich in true humor, it provides entertainment that appeals to all classes of theatre-goers and again reveals Chaplin as the greatest living pantomimist.

Charles Chaplin in "The Pilgrim"

Thrills, humor and pathos permeate every foot of this film that at once convulses and intrigues the onlooker.

The story is that of an escaped convict who wends his way to Texas after donning the clothes he has stolen from a minister. At the small town where he leaves his train he is mistaken by the congregation of the church for the young minister who had been assigned there.

Thus is "The Pilgrim" unwittingly forced into the pulpit and taken into the home of church leaders. The complications that follow are screamingly funny. There is a precious situation concerning a plum pudding and a derby hat, while Charlie's pantomimic rendering of the story of David and Goliath from the pulpit, without the aid of subtitles is a bit of incomparable acting.

As for more about the plot—no! It is too delicious a picture to be spoiled in the telling.

Chaplin, of course, wrote and directed "The Pilgrim," which is a First National release. Edna Purviance is again his leading lady and brother Sydney Chaplin and others who have appeared with him in the past are once more to be seen.

Many a woman never knows what she wants until she finds out what her husband does not want.

POLA NEGRI MAKES DEBUT TONIGHT AT THE GLENDALE

Beauty is always arresting and refreshing; never more so than when it is exotic and unusual. Pola Negri, who will be seen at the Glendale Theatre for two days, beginning tonight, in the new Goldwyn picture, "Mad Love," is startlingly arresting in her beauty; it centres attention upon her wherever she appears. Her air of poise and assurance—entire command of herself—add to the attractiveness of her personality.

One of most vivid and truthful descriptions of Pola Negri ever penned was that written for Classic recently by Rose Shulsinger.

"She clasped one's hand in a man's clasp, good solid, warm," wrote Miss Shulsinger. "She looked at you squarely, through you, with great eyes full of emotion. Pola Negri is an exceptional looking woman—exceptional any place. She is above medium height and beautifully made. Her skin is white, a deadly sort of oyster white which somehow seems to glisten at close range. Her face is round, rather large, though not full; there are the deep, very large, velvet eyes which you notice next to the pallor of that skin; a large, well-formed mouth; perfect teeth, not small; very dark hair, abundant and straight; a determined chin; an air at once executive and womanly; an intensely vivid black and white woman. A woman who plainly shows that she knows just what she wants and how to go about getting what she wants. A woman who comes straight to the point and sticks to that point. A woman who trusts her intuitions and has no time for details. A woman immediately arresting and sure of herself. A tropical flower cooled by the world, a hummingbird, poised. A superlative beauty, in a full blown sense. A purely Continental creature of intense appeal.

"Her rooms show as plainly as the clothes she wears the discriminating exotic. There is a baby grand piano, with its chaste, gilded music rack; the single Spartan-like, severely plain silver frame, with its photograph; an upright bunch of crimson American beauties. There is a couch piled high with pillows, soft, deep—no pastel ones here.

"There is, beyond, a bedroom with lacy blue and white bed, pillows piled high, again of lace; pictures of family members on the wall; a canary in a gold cage. There is a boudoir, all perfumed, and mirrors and drapings particularly Oriental and rich, and on the walls in the living room are pictures of Negri as a dancer, a gypsy, a fun-loving girl, a sportswoman.

"She appears a woman of extreme likes and dislikes; and the impression remains of a woman of character and decision; of exceptional executive ability and the sureness of a leader. She has an intuitive sense of drama."

HERMAN NELSON

Raisin Day is April 26. This festival, originated in 1909 by the growers of raisins in the San Joaquin Valley, has grown proportionately to the growth of the industry since its inception. Today it has achieved national recognition. Its significance to the San Joaquin valley has been likened to the early observation of Thanksgiving Day by the Pilgrim fathers. While a spirit of carnival pervades and it is ostensibly a festival, there is a serious, underlying appreciation of the meaning of this day which elevates it to the dignity of a ceremony.

The original idea of Raisin Day belonged to James Hersburgh, jr., a railroad man. At that time there was no association of raisin growers, and those engaged in the business had just gone through the heart-breaking trials of 1908 when the price their crops brought in the market was so far below the cost of production that it was not worth while to transport them to market. Most of the crop was fed to the hogs.

The business men of Fresno, assisted by Mr. Hersburgh, went out into the raisin district to persuade the farmers to give a quantity of raisins to be used in a celebration that would have a great advertising value and would attract the attention of the entire country to the raisin industry. Considerable eloquence and, in some cases, personal suasion, were necessary to awaken the interest of the disheartened growers. The campaign succeeded and the first Raisin Day was a distinct success. The result was that raisins received their first national advertising of any importance—throughout the length and breadth of the country, on railroad systems, in hotels, restaurants and in other ways.

As a result, the crop began to move slowly, and within a few months a tonnage which was then considered large was completely sold.

A few years later the Raisin Association was formed. Considerable credit is given to Raisin Day for the impetus toward this organization.

This year the Sun Maid Raisin Growers, an association of 14,000 growers composing the greatest co-operative marketing organization in the world, are undergoing a refinancing to place their organization on the very firmest possible financial foundation. The great industry has outgrown the original investment. It has become necessary to place more stock in the hands of the growers. It is, indeed, proper and fitting that this refinancing campaign should be brought to a successful conclusion on Raisin Day of this year, thus giving an added significance to the day and a greater reason for celebration.

The pageant feature of Raisin Day this year is allegorical in character, and is called "The Garden of Eden to the Garden of the Sun." It will depict the westward march of civilization from the birthplace of the raisin to its present home of intensive cultivation.

A feature of the celebration will be the annual Raisin Day Automobile Classic in which 13 of the world's greatest drivers will participate.

The Fresno Branch of the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank will welcome any of our Glendale friends who may be fortunate enough to attend the celebration.

ROTARY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Burbank Rotarians had a business meeting following their noon luncheon Tuesday. They elected officers, re-electing all the officers of the first term.

Bert Cross gave a short address about "Boys." This was in connection with the Boys' Week movement which is to be observed throughout the world by Rotarians. Volunteers were asked to speak at the Sunday schools next Sunday to start the week right.

Mayor J. C. Crawford, J. J. King, Dr. Van Meter, Bert Cross and Dr. Philip Zeiss offered their services.

L. F. Collins called attention of the Rotarians to 18 destitute children which various teachers have been giving food to. The Rotarians voted to finance the problem of feeding them until something can be done whereby they will have support.

Dr. Fox of Pasadena was the speaker for the day.

COLLEGE STARS ARE NEARING PAR ABILITY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 25. — Some most interesting comparisons of college baseball as against the professional game were made recently by L. W. St. John, athletic director of the Ohio state university and one of the best baseball coaches in the Western conference.

St. John expresses the opinion that the best teams of the Western Conference play as smart a game of baseball as the Class AA professional leagues, but in mechanical ability they are only on a par with Class B or C league teams.

Better coaching on scientific and "inside" baseball have brought about great improvement in college baseball in the last ten years and have equipped the players better technically and advanced them farther in strategy when they report to the coach, he says.

In his analysis of the college game, the Ohio state director says:

"The big fault with the average ball player is a weakness at the bat, which can be explained in two ways. Primarily, the collegian is not on a par physically with the athlete who has come up through the professional ranks to the Class AA or major league teams. Professionals in the big leagues are, for the most part, a wonderful bunch of athletes from the physical standpoint. The other factor contributing to the weakness of college batting is the ignorance of the fundamentals of batting.

When the college player is given the proper sort of coaching, the average batter can be boosted from 100 to 150 points and in some cases even more.

"Varsity players display their greatest ignorance at the plate in not knowing how to start their swing and when to break it. Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland American League club, and one of the greatest outfielders and batters of all time, is one of the best examples of the proper form of starting his swing and breaking it. Watch Speaker through a season and you will discover that he rarely strikes out. The answer is that he is always ready and set at the plate to hit the ball. By the time the ball has nearly reached the plate he knows whether it was good enough to hit at, and if not he can easily break his swing.

"Not one college player in fifteen knows this trick. Too many of them are 'pick' hitters. They have their minds made up before the ball is thrown whether they'll hit at it or not.

"College players commit errors of form in standing too close to the plate and in not keeping their weight properly balanced while at the bat, thus hampering them in following through. They also fail to keep their elbows down, thus interfering with a free swing.

"A college team, in view of all these faults, is lucky to have five or six fair hitters."

CHARLOTTETOWN, Prince Edward Island.—It is estimated that about 5,000 barrels of oysters will be packed on Prince Edward Island this year before the season closes, an increase of 1,300 barrels over 1921.

FORTY CAUGHT IN SPEEDERS COURT

Speeders court was adjourned and the reporter had left the room, when the sound of running footsteps came down the street, and were followed by the salutation, "I say, are you the reported for the Daily Press?"

The honor was admitted.

"I say, will you do me a favor?" and a wholesome, healthy blush tinted the cheeks of the 16-year-old boy. "I'd get in no end of trouble with my mother if she knew I was up for speeding. Will you keep my name out of the paper?"

As he had promised the judge that he'd never speed again, so that this would be the only chance to get his name in the speeders' roll, the reporter hesitated to make a promise, but since that chap might bring in some good live news some day, and because he wants to be an architectural engineer and all that—well, his name is John Doe.

Although about forty speeders stood before Judge Crawford Tuesday afternoon in Speeders court, the revenue was only slightly more than $100. The fines were light, most of them being $5, although there were some that were $15 and $10.

Lankershim was well represented, having several speeders who hailed from there. Many truck drivers were numbered among those present. One motorcycle driver told the judge he decided he would have to sell his motorcycle, as this was the second time they had nabbed him for speeding.

The judge almost stopped the fast one's heart from beating when he fined him $10 and 10 days in the county jail — but, after a few seconds' pause, said he would suspend the 10 days during the good behavior of one, S. T. Gregory, who was going at the rate of 45 miles an hour down Magnolia avenue.

W. Wilhite won one of the largest fines, $15, for speeding at the rate of 41 miles an hour down Magnolia avenue.

PHYSICAL INSTRUCTOR HELPING MIAMI BATHERS TO REDUCE

Every afternoon a physical instructor puts the bathers at Miami, Fla., through their paces. Most of them are over weight, some too thin, and some just medium. Many of them are women who are trying to conform to the present-day fashions. The above photograph shows a group of bathers raising the trunk and legs from the ground, "for the development of the arm and shoulder muscles." That's what the physical director says, but the real object is to reduce the waist line.

RADIO CONFUSION VERY EVIDENT NOWADAYS

Many radio fans, particularly small boys who have worked hard to install small sets which have a very limited area of sound, are much disappointed at the great confusion of programs these days and nights. Only the very expensive sets enable the owner to "tune out" all but what he wants to hear. Those with the cheaper sets might as well have none, as several programs going at once are worse than none. One of the occasional contributors to the Daily Press has faithfully outlined this prevailing condition, as follows:

Installed last week. We had our first use of it Sunday. It was interesting and entertaining, but not altogether discriminative, owing in part at least to our ignorance of operation and adjustments. We frequently felt like shouting: "One at a time, please." No use. "Near and yet so far." We turned our ears and mind to selection and concentration of attention upon the subject matter of our choice, thus reducing conflicting sounds to the status of mere noise to be disregarded. I got the best results when my eyes were closed and my mouth was somewhat open. Indeed it would seem as though the speaker's vocalization was originating in my mouth. A little after 10 o'clock a. m. a musical number to which we were listening was largely superseded by the clear tones of a speaking voice to which we immediately directed our undivided attention and interest. We did not catch a formal announcement of the text; it may not have been given except by installments tending to cumulative advance and impressiveness of appeal "We are workers together," urging the wisdom and necessity of unity and co-operation in religious efforts and activities, with the increasing stress on the final word "together." Later followed the completer sentence, "We are workers together with God." (Read third chapter of First Corinthians if interested). I should have been glad to hear this to conclusion, but another voice of nearly equal volume broke in with our duty to our animal friends and servants; the text, perhaps, "A merciful man regardeth the life of his beast." I quote from memory, but think that the conclusion of the passage is, "but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel;" thus we see that the principle of humaneness is contingent upon personal character in its moral manifestations. Instrumental music came rushing in at such a rate that but little more of the speaker's voice was heard except an appeal, or reference to the Hebrew statute, "Thou shalt not yoke the ox and the ass together" (animals of unequal strength), and the words "not even a sparrow falleth," etc. Why appeal to ancient thought or usage as authority or doctrine for the simple facts and matters of common sense and native intelligence? The words of a rustic poet and philosopher, written as a token of respect for his young friend, William Brower, on the occasion of his going away to college, inadvertently came into my memory, where he says—"If it grieves Him when a sparrow falls, it's sure as anything, He'd have turned the arrow if He could that broke the sparrow's wing."

"Ye can read old Nature's history,
That's writ in rocks and stones,
You can see her throbbing vitals
An' her mighty rack o' bones;
But the soul o' her— the livin' God,
A little child may know
No lens or ciphering can ever hope to show.
There's a part o' God's creation
Very handy to your view—
All the truth o' life is in it,
An' remember, Bill, it's you."
An' after all your science,
Ye must look up in your mind,
An' learn its own astronomy,
The star of peace to find."

All the above occurred between 10 and 11 o'clock, but the music continued in great variety until 12.

Yours truly,
A. L. GREENLAW.

SPEAK ENGLISH AND YOU WILL HAVE A GAY TIME

PANAMA (By mail to United Press).—"Any girl who speaks English can have a wonderful time in Maracaibo," is the tidings brought by Miss Cecilia Cooke, a resident of the Venezuelan metropolis, recently arrived in Panama with her father, who came to be treated in Panama hospital.

"Since the oil companies began to work on a big scale in Venezuela," she explained, "there are lots and lots of young engineers and managers living around Maracaibo. Whenever they have a holiday or a week-end they come into Maracaibo for dances and parties. The girls who speak English are very much sought after."

Miss Cooke herself, pretty 20-year-old daughter of an Englishman who married into one of the distinguished families of Venezuela, speaks English, Spanish and French with equal fluency.

Art Section Prepares for Polychrome

The Art section of the Woman's club is very enthusiastic over the plans for the coming lessons. Today a committee consisting of Mrs. Fillbach, Mrs. Beckner, Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. Reese went to Los Angeles to select material for the Friday lesson, on polychrome.

The instructor, just out from Chicago, will begin her work at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning at the Santa Anita apartments. Twenty women have signed up for the instruction.

PUBLIC WILL BE WELCOMED AT P.-T. A. MEETING

Good Program Has Been Arranged for Thursday Afternoon

Thursday afternoon Mayor J. C. Crawford will address the entire membership of the Burbank P.-T. A. at the Edison building. The program will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock. It is open to the public and everybody is invited.

The association has a large membership since the drive, and the officers are hoping all the people will come and bring their friends, as Mayor Crawford's talks are always instructive as well as entertaining. Two other very good addresses have been arranged for the afternoon. Mr. J. J. King, the new school trustee, and L. F. Collins, superintendent of grammar grades, will speak.

A report of the organizing of two new branches of the P.-T. A., one at the new Abraham Lincoln school and the other at the Joaquin Miller school, will be made at this time.

MRS. NOSSOFF IS INJURED IN P. E. ACCIDENT

Mrs. N. Nossoff, 209 West San Fernando boulevard, was seriously injured Monday when the 5:45 p. m. Pacific Electric, crossing San Fernando boulevard at Brand boulevard, hit the Nossoff Ford truck. She was caught beneath the heavy truck when it turned over. The accident was all the more serious, as Mrs. Nossoff is in a delicate condition. Mr. Nossoff was driving the truck, and though pinned under it when it turned over, escaped with slight injuries.

Officers Tupper, Ackerly and Gates of the police department were on their way to Los Angeles when they saw the accident, and assisted in getting Mrs. Nossoff out from under the machine. Mrs. Nossoff was rushed to the Cottage hospital where latest reports are that there were no bones broken and she is recuperating.

DAUGHTERS DAY IS PLEASING EVENT

Young Artists Give Fine Musical at Woman's Club

Daughters' Day at the Burbank Woman's club Tuesday afternoon was wonderfully successful. The large audience was vastly pleased with the enjoyable entertainment presented. Preceding the musical program, Mrs. Kate Thimgan gave her report of the convention. Mrs. Johnson read two short reports written in poetry which she dedicated to "A Little Red Hat," and to Mrs. May Clark.

The daughters' program was an unusual plan. Every musician was heartily encored and presented with a floral tribute. It was one of the most enjoyable of the club year programs. The program follows:

"Old Black Joe" Variations
Ruth Jenkins
"La Cinquaintaine"
Hazel Wallace, Violinist
Alice Gratrix, Pianist
"Romance"
Fay Knox, Clarinetest
Prof. F. S. Moore, Accompanist
"From the Land of the Sky Blue Water"
Kristine May Krum, Vocalist
Mrs. Walter Fisher, Accompanist
"Far Off I Hear a Lover's Flute"
Kristine May Krum, Vocalist
Mrs. Walter Fisher, Accompanist
"Salute d'Amour"
"Madrigal"
Gertrude Thedaker, Violinist
Mrs. Walter Fisher, Pianist

The coming of Frederick Warde in a dramatic recital, the best thing of its kind that Burbank will ever have the opportunity of hearing, was announced by F. S. More, principal of the high school. "Fifty Years of Make Believe" will probably be his subject, as this is one for which he is noted and is one of his finest ones. The middle of May will be the time selected for the lecture, probably.

"This famous entertainer can be secured for Burbank if the whole town will support the recital," said Mr. Moore.

GO TO GLENDALE RECIPROCITY DAY PROGRAM

Mrs. J. A. Johnson, president of the Burbank Woman's club, and Mrs. A. C. Fillbach, secretary; Mrs. Lock and Mrs. C. I. Lovejoy, attended Reciprocity Day at Glendale, Tuesday. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Fillbach attended the luncheon at noon. Mrs. Lovejoy, a member of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club, went over for the afternoon session, and Mrs. Delmonte Lock and Mrs. Fillbach were delegates for the Burbank club.

GROSHONG LOSES VALUED HORSE

Earl Groshong, 447 Orange Grove avenue, lost a valuable horse when a Pacific Electric Electric car ripped open the side of the animal. It was hitched with a young colt, which became frightened at the approach of the car and, rearing and plunging, crowded the older horse on the track as the car whirled past.

Chief Cole was called and shot the horse, as it was injured seriously.

Truths in Epigram

He that will believe only what he can fully comprehend must have a very long head or a very short creed.—Colton.

What a folly to dread the thought of throwing away life at once, and yet have no regard to throwing it away by parcels and piecemeal.—Howe.

EXAMPLE OF THE WORLD

For 3500 miles Canada and the United States touch. There is no Chinese wall between. There are no frowning forts to mark the boundary line. One might step across quite unaware of having passed from one country to another. Between the two peoples there is profound peace that has lasted for a century. That this peace ever is to be broken there is not a remote sign. There is friendliness, mutuality of interests, and for each government, the people living under the other, have respect. Good faith and integrity are better than any armed defense.

It seems strange that the example thus set has not been followed. There should be nothing to prevent an equal peace wherever two nations are neighbors. It is not extraordinary that Canadians and Americans should have refrained from quarreling and from war. The extraordinay thing is that the admirable model they constitute for the world to follow, shows the world lagging far behind. The lust of conquest dominates. It started Germany on the vain quest of conquering the world. It accounts for the turmoil of Europe. The nations do not trust each other. They do not accept pledges as of good faith. Ever they suspect duplicity. They are greedy, and they are not honest. They are far below the ethical standard that keeps unstrained the friendly relations of the United States and Canada.

That the United States has no thought of conquest, the world knows, or would know, had it the intelligence to accept the evidence of plain facts. This country has no more design on Canada than Canada has on the United States. It has thrust aside opportunities to take in Mexico. Easily it could have gone farther south than Mexico. It felt no impulse to subjugate any smaller folk. Cuba was in its hands, but only briefly and for protection of the island.

Canada is near enough to know the United States. It realizes that its own vast territory is to remain undisturbed, and that it has no reason to seek to disturb the United States.

FLORIDA'S TACTICAL ERROR

In permitting the whipping of convicts, Florida will realize that it has made a tactical error. So great is the indignation, that a movement has been started to induce sportsmen and tourists to boycott the state. While in all probability the movement will come to nothing, the fact that it is being considered is a definite expression of opinion, and a pointed rebuke.

The "whipping boss" of a convict camp recently explained his methods. He was required to do so on the witness stand, since a victim of the methods had died as a result of their application. The boss said he never laid on more than ten or eleven lashes, and that he did this in a humane fashion. The number of punishments was about ten monthly. Some doubt arises as to the effectiveness, or perhaps even the possibility, of a humane lashing. It is not likely that the subject of such treatment would have died of it; for him to have done so in the present instance, was most inconsiderate.

A convict camp, under conditions such as prevail where convicts are farmed out to contractors, is an abomination. Invariably it is the scene of cruelty, inflicted by depraved and brutal subordinates. It involves a condition that while it lasts, is worse than any slavery. California, much more populous than Florida, and necessarily with more prisoners in its penitentiaries, has found it wise to treat convicts as human beings. They are not tortured, and they are not, as part of their punishment, thrust into a deepei degradation. There are camps, but they are "honor" camps, with few guards, and these guards not ruffians with thongs in their hands.

THE RIGHTS OF SMOKERS

Considerable comment has been caused by the fact that a number of smokers have been arrested for indulging in the habit while passengers of street cars in Pasadena. Some seem to have conceived the notion that this indicates a favorable leaning towards "blue" laws. It happens that it does nothing of the sort. The cars used in Pasadena are for the most part of a closed type. There is no way in which a section could be reserved for smoking, the closed cars having a single compartment. Even the smoker, demanding certain rights of his own, if fair-minded, must concede that the non-smoker also has rights. The man so addicted to the use of tobacco as to be unable to refrain from it for a few minutes during which indulgence would annoy those about him, is not reasonably considerate. He is to be pitied if he is so thoroughly enmeshed by the snares of My Lady Nicotine that he may not, for the sake of courtesy, keep his smoking paraphernalia briefly out of evidence.

There are many semi-public places in which may be observed signs requesting that there shall be no smoking. Thus at some restaurants, in elevators, in railway stations, and in private offices. These signs are obeyed by gentlemen. When they are ignored, the offenders are guilty of boorishness. No one will admit this any more quickly than the smoker who follows the rule not to make his practice offensive. There are many places in which smoking is not held objectionable, and there is the wide out-of-doors. But in a closed and often crowded car, smoking is objectionable to all but the persons engaged in it.

THE FAITH OF SCIENCE

An astronomer of note, remarking on the vast distances between the bodies discerned in space, said that were our sun ever to draw nearer to any other, our planets, including the earth, would be drawn into larger orbits, and receive less energy from the sun. He added, "This may be one reason for such immense distances apart."

It is impossible to get away from that word "reason." The scientist adverts to it in explaining, in so far as he may, the wondrous areas of the heavens. Thus he expresses faith in a ruling intelligence. He says plainly, though by implication, that the stars were set in their courses for a "reason." To him creation does not appear as the fortuitous outcome of atomic forces. It appears as the result of design. The great scientist accepts God.

Occasionally there are efforts to reconcile science with the teachings of dogmatic religion. As the teachings of science are exact, and the adherents of religion possess intelligence, the rift between them is being narrowed by concessions. It is found, somewhat to the surprise of both that they are not so widely separated as they had supposed. Both are in search of the truth. Both desire to so demonstrate and use the truth as to cause it to serve for the uplift of humanity.

LUNATICS AND LUNATICS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

If your neighbor happens to be crazy reconcile yourself to the condition until he does something desperate. When he brains the cook, or knifes the kids, or fires the house, the constituted authorities may take notice.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

Until he does, his mental idiosyncrasies are nobody's business.

Why is a lunacy commission? This morning I inquired to know after the custom of the internationally famous Hashimure Togo. The reply was that folks connected with the lunacy commission looked after people "who had been paroled from insane asylums." They said if I knew anybody who was crazy I'd better report it to the detective bureau. I did and was advised to report it to the police women, which I also did.

Next, as the crazy person was a woman who was seeking charity, I reported it to the county charities office. Again it was nobody's business.

Maybe you think it is no business of yours. We will see.

This woman is as crazy as a hasheesh drunk bed bug. Letters in my possession prove it. More, she is traipsing all over the country and having babies in the poor houses of the state through which she passes. Four of these children are in Los Angeles and each is a potential charge on the community, and shortly all four will become actual charges if the mother in an extra violent fit of mental abberation does not first kill them.

Ten years ago I wrote a story similar to this about a negro lunatic. It was then, as now, "nobody's business" to look after crazy people. The man remained at large and did crazy things off and on. When he annoyed the neighbors too much he was arrested and taken to police court where the judge gave him a moral lecture on the condition of his soul and added ten days in the cooler for good measure.

Ten years passed and, the man, becoming suddenly vicious, killed four people by beating out their brains. They were prominent, law-abiding, excellent citizens. Everybody was sorry and they sent the lunatic to the insane asylum.

It is a conservative statement to say that I have at various times reported here, there and everywhere twenty or more such cases. With no result.

Now, as I do not know what else to do I am reporting this to the citizenry of this community.

What can be done to have a crazy woman locked up in a safe place?

What can be done to keep her from bearing children who later go crazy?

Who fixes the duties of the lunacy commission? Are the people to be left defenseless at the mercy of any and every crazy person who has no close relative to go before some judge and file complaint?

Is this woman to be left free until in her pathetic befogged brain she conceives and executes some deed of violence?

Are you interested? If not, your blood be on your own head.

LETTERS FROM READERS

(Find the error in this article.)

"Perplexed," Schenectady, N. Y.: "Should a comma follow him in the following sentence: I should think Mr. Smythe would be interested in the proposition, and if you are in touch with him why don't you send it along?"

Answer: Yes.

"Should a comma follow customer in the following sentence, and which of the italicized words are correct: I am very glad that you decided to send him to consult with the prospective customer because he (appeals or appealed) to me as a very capable man and he most assuredly (possesses or possessed). . . ?

Answer: A comma should follow customer. Appealed and possesses seem to be the right words.

John Hartigaa, Chicago: "My dictionary pronounces gout as if spelled gaut, but it gives au the sound of ou in out."

Answer: Correct. Au is the key, the pronunciation of which is as ou in out.

L. M. D., New York: "Kindly advise which form is correct: The Blank Trust Company is authorized; or, The Blank Company are authorized?"

Answer: The right word is the verb is. Readers seem to have heaps of trouble with this little problem.

Yesterday's Error

Wrong: Every one's else hat has a broad brim.

Right: Every one else's hat has a broad brim.

Vocabulary

Parody is a literary composition closely imitating some grave work in form and phraseology, while treating a ludicrously dissimilar subject. It is a trivial or comical imitation, especially of a poem. More broadly it is any burlesque imitation of something serious. Also, the verb is parody; as, He will parody the poem. Other forms of the verb are parodied; parodying.

Queries

B. M. Ross, New York: "Kindly advise me whether the word is is correct in the following: 'The board approves of plans for the following improvements, the minimum estimated duration and usefulness of which improvements is hereby expressed and declared to be ten years'?"

Answer: The terms duration and usefulness seem to repeat each other. It would therefore have been sufficient to say, ". . . . the usefulness of which improvements is herewith declared to be ten years."

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

JAMES W. FOLEY

The ways of life are peculiar.

As Bret Harte said about the heathen Chinese.

Although the heathen Chinee is not at all a heathen.

A heathen is merely somebody who does not believe as we do.

The Chinese are a remarkable people.

Their civilization is the oldest one in the world that has endured.

The Grecian civilization no longer exists.

As it was two or three thousand years ago.

The Roman civilization of two thousand years ago has disappeared.

And the ancient Egyptian civilization has fallen in dust and decay.

But the Chinese civilization has endured for four or five or six thousand years.

And it shows no signs of decaying.

Indeed it shows signs of greater growth and life.

So the heathen Chinee antedates all of us.

Beside Chinese philosophy and religion and science we are as children.

But to get back to the ways of life.

We are often poor judges.

We judge the man Christ.

But we do not judge His parents.

Joseph and Mary were humble and poor.

Yet they gave to the world its greatest gift.

The world sees Christ.

Measures His greatness.

Reverences His spirit.

And yet it gives few thoughts to the parents.

Those who gave the Savior to the world.

And it is the same when we measure the great men and women of the world.

Thomas Lincoln and Nancy Hanks, for instance.

Who measures them as great.

Yet they gave to America its greatest man.

Abraham Lincoln.

And we may consider thousands of others.

Julius Caesar.

Buddha.

Confucius.

Mohammed.

Cromwell.

Washington.

* * *

How often do we give thought to the parents of these men.

Or women for instance.

Nightingale.

Patti.

Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Bernhardt.

And a long list of eminences.

Their parents were perhaps unknown.

Nobody gives much thought to them.

And they gave the world great gifts.

In children who have blessed the world with art.

Literature.

Humanitarianism.

We judge hastily.

There may be humble parents in the world today who will give the future glory in manhood and womanhood.

There may be mothers of Lincolns and Washingtons of whom we take little notice.

The parents of a Newton or an Edison or an Alexander Graham Bell may be walking among us.

Humble, simple, poor.

The ways of life are peculiar.

Who knows into what family genius and statesman and humanitarian may be born?

Who knows where glory may come?

Songs of the Poets

The White Flag—By John Hay

I sent my love two roses—one
As white as driven snow,
And one a flushing royal red,
A flaming Jacqueminot.

I meant to touch and test my fate;
That night I should divine,
The moment I should see my love,
If her true heart were mine.

For if she holds me dear, I said,
She'll wear my blushing rose;
If not, she'll wear my cold Lamargue,
As white as winter's snows.

My heart sank when I met her: sure
I had been overbold,
For on her breast my pale rose lay
In virgin whiteness cold.

Yet with low words she greeted me,
With smiles divinely tender;
Upon her cheek the red rose dawned—
The white rose meant surrender.

ON BEING LATE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THERE are some people who are usually late and think it is a joke.

It is not.

It is an insult.

The other day William F. Hoppe and young Jake Schaefer were to play a match game of billiards for the championship of the world. The game was to be played in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York and had been scheduled to start promptly at 8 o'clock.

"But at that hour," says the press report, "there were only a couple of hundred spectators present, with the crowd filtering slowly in. It was deemed advisable not to start until most of the crowd had been seated. So for more than twenty minutes Hoppe and Schaefer, who had arrived on time, were compelled to sit twiddling their thumbs. It was a terrific strain which showed plainly on the faces of both men as they were called finally to the table. Schaefer was pale as a sheet and Hoppe's cheeks were flushed as they seldom have been before."

Whether you think a game of billiards is worth while or not, at least you must recognize that here were two men facing one of the big crises of their lives who were injured and annoyed by the negligence and indifference of a lot of lazy people who were not on time.

Being late usually goes with selfishness of the ingrained and unconscious kind.

When we make an engagement to meet a man at 3 p. m. and we do not arrive until 3:15 it is usually because we have not imagination enough to realize his irritation during those fifteen minutes.

When we come into the theater or lecture room after all others are seated and the performance has commenced, we are thinking only of ourselves and taking no consideration of those whom we annoy.

We are deficient in capacity to put ourselves in the place of others, which is the very foundation of decency.

Many of us do not care much whether we are moral or not, but almost everybody wants to be agreeable as far as possible; that is, he wants others to think well of him. And one of the surest ways to be universally detested is to acquire the reputation of keeping everybody waiting.

If there is a human being who likes to wait I have never chanced to meet him.

But there are few of us that have not been kept waiting at one time or another; few indeed who can parallel the experience of Louis XIV., "Le Grand Monarche," who came down the steps of Versailles Palace one day to take a ride and saw the carriage drive up just as he came to the curbstone:

"Ah!" he said, drawing on his gloves, "I almost had to wait."

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

HERRIN IS GUILTY

[Chicago Tribune]

A second Williamson county jury has acquitted a second group of Herrin coal miners in the second murder trial growing out of the massacre of more than a score of non-union miners.

The world knows that more than twenty men were shot and tortured to death at Herrin simply because they worked in a coal mine without belonging to the miner's union. The Herrinites cannot escape the inevitable result—the fixing of responsibility upon the group.

Herrin is a murderous community. The courts cannot convict its residents of murder and punish them physically, but the civilized opinion of the entire United States convicts them of wholesale murder and perversion of justice, and will punish them by contempt and ostracism from the society of decent people. There is no appeal from that verdict of community guilt so long as the actual murderers escape.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

When William H. Taft was a private citizen, and numbered among his friends the late Andrew Carnegie, the latter made provision by will that the sum of $10,000 should be paid yearly to Taft. Mr. Carnegie had many other friends. For some of these he made somewhat similar arrangements. He had a vast fortune; he was anxious to bestow it wisely and usefully. To so devise a portion of his money that it would serve to keep the legatees above the danger of want, was a thoughtful and kindly act. Carnegie, being dead and having died before his testament became of effect, is not holding any of the beneficiaries to account. They are under no obligation to him beyond that of cherishing his memory. They have given no pledges. Their annuities are not in token of bondage.

HENRY JAMES

In course of time William H. Taft, ceasing to be a private citizen, was honored by appointment as chief justice, a position for which the people of the country considered him admirably fitted. That his conduct in that high place would vary one whit because of the $10,000 from the Carnegie estate is a violent and insolent assumption.

Certain newspapers bent habitually on the fomenting of mischief, joying in the opportunity to create prejudice, have raised an outcry, declaring that Taft is in honor bound to relinquish the money left to him by his old friend.

Nobody is deceived as to the purpose. The idea of the disturbers is not that the integrity of the supreme court shall be preserved, but to give currency to the opinion that this integrity has been threatened. The animus is intrinsic meanness that delights in annoying, and never misses the chance to belittle the characters of public men. The only public men to escape are such as become the creatures and tools of the papers in question.

If Taft chooses to relinquish his $10,000 a year, that is his affair. If there is any question of ethics involved, it is for him to settle for himself. The suggestion as to how he should settle it, is an insult, and doubtless so intended.

It really would be too bad if college women insisted on remaining spinsters, but they don't.

Sabotage is a form of crime that even the perpetrators must be at loss to explain. There are suspicions that a certain band of men, justly or unjustly ascribed to the I. W. W. planned to destroy oil wells and machinery in one of the richest producing sections.

Had they succeeded, they would have thrown many out of work, occasioned vast loss in property, reduced the supply of an important staple. But in what manner would all this have been of advantage to them? That is a question no wise man could answer, and of course the boob with bomb in hand would be unable to give sane reply.

WATCHING THE PARADE

BY JOHN DILGRIM

Not long ago one of the great men of our community died. Every one loved him. He had all the elements—as it seemed to his friends—of national greatness. Yet he had never managed to escape from his limited field. Many of us do not want to leave our home town. Our wings only open for short flights. We know our barnyard limits. But this man was an eagle, as it seemed to us. He was forever trying to get away. Yet he failed.

"Something lacking in him," said one of his warmest admirers. "Just some little element. Add that and his name might have become known through the world."

It reminded another present of an incident of his boyhood. He sat one night by a log fire in a camp, listening to the hunters' talk. An United States senator, a great judge, the governor of a state, a world famous actor were among them. The talk warped around to the topic of worldly success. How it is achieved. Why some men win and others fail. A surgeon whose skill has been honored by more than one government played his part.

"When I was a boy," he said—"an ambitious boy—I studied men who were notably successful. I read the lives of some. I heard their friends speak of others. Some lived near at hand. When I was twenty I had found the formula for success.

"'It is brain,' I said to myself. 'The great man is the man of vast intelligence.'

"At thirty I had altered my diagnosis. It seemed to me the true secret of success was energy. Everywhere around me I saw men who were successful because they were dynamic and forceful. I held that belief until I was fifty. Now I am an old man and I have changed my mind again.

"The true secret of success is integrity. A man may gain riches and fall in honesty. He may win fame and be slippery as an eel. But the man who is really successful—though his name may never be heard outside his own home town—is the man of integrity."

HAMLIN SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY NIGHT

The birthday anniversary of Edwin D. Hamlin of the realty firm of Hamlin & Hepburn was celebrated with a very brilliant social event Monday night in the form of a surprise party given by Mrs. Edwin D. Hamlin and Mrs. David W. Hepburn at the auditorium of the Citizens' Building. Baskets of flowers graced the platform where Kelly's Shrine Club orchestra furnished music for dancing. The soft glow of various colored floor lamps, together with the light from the regular globes, which were covered with dark red paper, furnished a very pretty lighting effect.

During the evening several specialty dance numbers were given by little Miss Eleanore Marek and Cecilia Mae Fisher, pupils of the Pearl Keller studio. Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Cavanah delighted the guests with several selections and Mr. Moore of the Cavanah studio gave some readings. Those taking part in the program were presented with bouquets of flowers by Mrs. Hamlin.

Cards were enjoyed by a large number of the guests. A feature of the evening was the balloon dance, when each man was given a balloon to tie on the wrist of his dancing partner. As the balloons were bursted the couples had to drop out, a prize being awarded to the last couple remaining on the floor. Punch was served during the evening, and at a late hour supper, including sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake, were served. As a favor, each guest was presented with a small individual box containing a piece of birthday cake. The Virginia reel closed the evening's festivities.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cavanah and Mr. Moore of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Taylor, Miss Loretta Arend and Charles McGarry of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith, Bert Woodard, Mr. and Mrs. Joe LaRock, Mr. and Mrs. Gasser, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cava, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Brown, Miss Lenora Jones, Mr. Price, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gafford, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Watson and daughter Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Baird, Miss Carrow, Mr. Shewee, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Landon, Mrs. C. E. Bouton and Clifford Hepburn of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Thimgan of Burbank, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Watson of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Mufflewhite, Miss Ames, Miss Borden, F. E. White and son-in-law and daughter of Los Angeles, Mrs. Mabel Judd and son, John F. Judd, Jr., of Glendale; T. W. Noble of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hamlin.

THE SUM

Let's try it again, Little Brother,
Let's put all the figures down here.
Let's add and divide and the others beside,
And see if it will not come clear.
Let's clear off the slate and begin it,
As if all the problem were new,
And get out the kinks that are in it,
And make that hard answer come true.

Let's try it again, Little Brother,
I know we can do it somehow,
Let's get all the dread of it out of our head,
And the wrinkles all out of our brow.
Let's put those old sums all behind us,
The seven and the nine and the ten,
Let's wipe out each plus and each minus
And begin it all over again.

Let's not say defeat, Little Brother,
Let's rest from the sums for a while,
Let's run out and play all the wrinkles away,
But let's not forget how to smile.
What if many times we've been through it,
Let's try it as many times more
And one of these times we will do it,
And forget all the troubles before.

I've done it myself, Little Brother,
Ten times, yes, and many times ten,
With the problem and sum that in lifetime must come,
And perhaps I shall do it again.
I've done, too, the troubling and sighing,
I've struggled for many a while,
But the main thing is just to keep trying,
And not to forget how to smile.

Nazarene Church To Have Meeting

The last monthly business meeting of the Nazarene church year will be held Friday evening, May 4, 1923. It is very important that every member of the church be present as officers for the next year will be elected at this meeting. Rev. J. E. Bates, district superintendent of the Southern California district, will be present and will make a short address and also preside at the business session afterwards.

During the remainder of the week the congregation is urged to attend the services at the Jeter tabernacle and lend their assistance in every way possible. It is probable that the Friday night service will give way to the meeting at the tabernacle.

ALCO DRIVER HELD

Candido Gonzales, Jr., who was arrested Sunday on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, appeared before Judge Lowe Monday morning for arraignment, as a result of which he is held on $1000 cash bail or $2000 property bond. His hearing will take place on May 1 at 3 p. m. He was taken to the county jail by Officers Royle and Simmons.

Candido Gonzales, Sr., pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and paid a fine of $25.

Probably there is nothing in the world that gives a man that tired feeling quicker than to have another man say, "Why don't you do as I do?"
